Dalkey Archive. 1 Paperback(s), 2008. soft. Book Condition: New. A solitary writer named Ed attempts to make sense of his memories and fashion a book from them, but he is distracted by everything around him, in this comic novel by the author of Hotel Europa. From his Parisian apartment, Ed observes the comings and goings of pigeons and neighbors, including the widow Maryse and her Pekinese, all the while sifting through the "raw material" of his sensations and memories. Enlisting his three childhood friends Edmund, Edgar, and Edward to provide him with biographical data, Ed uses their rather unhelpful responses to write a bookof a sort."[Dumitru Tsepeneag] induces the sense that memory, time, and consciousness are both mutable and, ultimately, unknowable." Elizabeth Hand 159.
