Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Brief Longhand: A System of Longhand Contractions: By Means of Which the Principal Advantages of Shorthand Are Secured Without Resort to Stenographic Characters, and With Perfect Legibility The causes that led to the formation of the system of contractions here presented are stated in subsequent pages. There has been, at least, an earnest endeavor to make it accord not only with certain principles of legibility and speed, which have been thoroughly tested in the best system of shorthand ever devised, but also with the principles of abbreviation (developed in this work) which have heretofore been confidently relied upon by the literary public; and it is felt entirely unnecessary to crave for it the lenient exercise of judgment and criticism, since much rigid testing of it by practice has induced the belief that the system will improve in the estimation of writers in the proportion that a practical knowledge of it is attained. There is nothing abstruse pertaining to the system - nothing which can not be easily learned and readily reduced to practice. Its three styles are three progressive developments of the same principles - corresponding to three different classes of uses. Each style is amply illustrated by Exercises, which should be perused till familiarity with the appearance of words as contracted is attained. This injunction should be faithfully heeded by all who wish to reap the full benefits of the system. The Exercises, besides serving as exercise in Brief Longhand, will, perhaps, furnish their readers with useful subjects for thought. Every reader seeking the means of intellectual improvement will thankfully accept the suggestions of the Exercises entitled, How to Acquire Ease and Correctness in...
